Tool & Die Metal Stamping

Introduction

BHM Metal Products & Industries is a tool and die metal stamping company that manufactures in a 22,000 SF facility in Forest City, Pennsylvania. We primarily sell custom ordered metal stampings and metal stamping assemblies. We design and manufacture precision tools and dies in-house as needed for a given order. Using those tools and dies, we then manufacture the metal stampings and assemblies as required by government and customer specifications. We do both prime contracting and subcontracting

The parts and assemblies we produce are used in but are not limited to: electronic components, tanks, ships/submarines, aircraft, spacecraft, missiles, lab equipment, medical equipment, and cargo control systems. We work with various metals and metal alloys including but not limited to: aluminum, steel, stainless steel, brass, copper, phosphorus bronze, and beryllium copper. We also do general machine shop work and metal fabrication.

Company History

In 1946 BHM Metal Products was founded as a precision tool & die metal stamping American manufacturing business, by two Navy veterans, Bernard Gordon and Marvin Gordon, with their father Harry Gordon in New York City. Its principle customer base is comprised of the government (including the military, the Department of Defense, and NASA), prime military/civilian contractors, and military/civilian subcontractors. Over the years, BHM Metal Products produced high precision parts that are found in aircraft, spacecraft, and military equipment.

In 2003 BHM Metal Products was restructured and upgraded as BHM Metal Products & Industries, LLC to include the forth generation, to expand our facilities to do more tool & die metal stamping, and to allow for research & development in new technologies. We have expanded to Forest City, Pennsylvania.
